

NSA/BPA Disagreement Procedures

January 1, 2005

Due to the number of disputes that happen yearly between coaches, participants, teams, sponsors, directors, park and facility owners, umpires, and related parties, the NSA/BPA has adopted a new procedure to follow with regard to disagreements that threaten legal action or that lead to legal action by any player, coach, team or related persons against any affiliated person, director, park, umpire or facility of the NSA/BPA.

Any participant, team, coach, sponsor or other party who threatens in writing, through legal council or otherwise to take legal action against the NSA/BPA, files a legal action against the NSA/BPA or has a lawyer contact the NSA/BPA verbally regarding a dispute will automatically be suspended from all NSA/BPA activities until the legal discussions are concluded to the satisfaction of the NSA/BPA.

Additionally, if legal action is filed against NSA/BPA or a NSA/BPA affiliated person, park, or facility by any participant, team, coach or any related person, the person filling the action, the person's team and each of its members may be suspended from any and all NSA/BPA events until the legal actions are resolved to the satisfaction of NSA/BPA.
